PATROL NEED STRESSED

An ordinance to provide an additional patrolman in the police department was given a single reading Wednesday night before council.

The ordinance was introduced by Councilman William M. Reid, who said he prepared it at the request of Mayor W. B. Cady. Mr. Reid said an additional patrolman is needed during the day.

"Streets should be patrolled from morning until evening," Mr. Reid stated. "A patrolman on duty in the daytime would pay his expenses in the number of citations he would make."

Two officers are now on day duty. They are Police Chief William McCrady and Patrolman Fred Fitzpatrick. During lunch hours and when one of the officers is answering a call the other must remain on desk duty.

Mayor Cady said that the patrolman with the longest service on the night force would be transferred to day duty and a new officer added to the night force from the eligible list, if the ordinance is passed. Alva Shasteen has served the longest on the night force.

JURORS ARGUING FATE OF 25 IN W. P. A. INQUIRY

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 9—A mixed jury composed of clerks, farmers and businessmen still held the fate today of 25 persons accused of participating in a criminal conspiracy to divert New Mexico's W. P. A. to political use.

The case, which represents the first "mass" prosecution by the government for asserted political coercion of W. P. A. workers, was given to the federal court jury at 8:45 o'clock last night at the conclusion of a 10-day trial at which more than 200 witnesses testified.

In their final arguments to the jury, government prosecutors characterized the case as a "gigantic conspiracy to formulate the government W. P. A. into a powerful political group by compulsory methods."

Defense attorneys contended in their argument that the case resulted from a bitter political feud between United States Senator Dennis Chavez and former Governor Clyde Tingley for control of New Mexico's Democratic politics.

SHIP MISSING IN MID-OCEAN

Fear Felt For Safety Of 37 Sailors Aboard British Craft

NEW YORK, Feb. 9—Wreckage of the British freighter Maria De Larrinaga was found today in the choppy North Atlantic, about 1,200 miles northeast of New York, indicating the ship which yesterday flashed a distress signal had sunk, leaving the fate of its crew of 37 a mystery. Sighting of the wreckage was reported by the Cunard liner Aurania.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9—Northwest gales whipped up mountainous seas in the Atlantic today, leaving one ship, the British freighter Maria De Larrinaga, unheard from after flashing S. O. 3, calls and a second, the steamer Glueckauf, in distress.

As two rescue ships, the Scanmail and the Veendam, reached the last-reported position of the Maria De Larrinaga about 1,200 miles east of New York, Radio Marine Corporation, at Chatham, Mass., reported an S. O. 3, from the Glueckauf seven miles from Humber lightship. Neither the Scanmail nor Veendam reported any immediate trace of the Maria De Larrinaga or its crew of 37, but began searching in the heavy seas.

Ship May Have Sunk

Fears at once arose that the leaking freighter, its No. 1 hatch stove in, might have gone to the bottom after its crew took to lifeboats in the heavy sea. Several other rescue ships were steaming towards the Maria De Larrinaga.

At 11:05 last night the British freighter Clintonia reported itself only 32 miles away but forced to leave because of heavy seas in a message from the American liner Scanmail intercepted by Radio Marine Corporation.

At 10:25 last night the S. S. Ireland reported it had not heard the Maria De Larrinaga for the last hour and appealed to all stations ashore and afloat to remain silent until communication was re-established.

Steaming towards the Maria De Larrinaga which reported itself in difficulty shortly after 1:30 yesterday afternoon about 1,200 miles east of New York were the Holland American liners Veendam and Noorland, the Cunarder Aurania, the Clintonia and the Scanmail. In its frequent S. O. 3, messages, the Maria De Larrinaga, enroute to Cobh, Ireland, from Houston, Texas, reported No. 1 hatch was stove in and that she was sinking.

Later, the Maria De Larrinaga reported by radio her bulkhead still was holding and that heavy seas were quieting. She placed her position at 385 miles southeast of Cape Race, N. F.

The first report of the ship's difficulty came from the Cunard liner Queen Mary which was 20 far away from the Maria De Larrinaga to render assistance but relayed S. O. 3, calls.

It was believed frequent calls from the distressed ship reflected the skipper's anxiety to reach vessels nearer than the rescue ships.

JURORS DECIDE FOR MURPHY IN CAR THEFT CASE

A verdict of not guilty was returned by a Common Pleas court jury, Wednesday evening, in the trial of Berman C. Murphy, 23, of Logan street. He was charged with auto theft. The jurors deliberated about an hour. Turney Pontius, Pickaway township, was foreman.

Murphy had been accused of taking the auto of Homer McCain, Walnut street, his brother-in-law, on Dec. 5. Murphy's defense was on the grounds that he had been requested by McCain to take the car, drive it to Waverly, and dispose of it in the Scioto river for which he was to receive $10.

It was charged the car was taken from Court street when McCain was attending a theatre. Murphy was arrested in Waverly by the state highway patrol. The car was found abandoned in Waverly.

McCain denied any such alleged conspiracy. He had notified police of the theft and said the only insurance on the car was that of a loan company.

The state called five witnesses, Mr. McCain, Police Chief William McCrady, Mayor William B. Cady, Harry Bartholomew and Corp. Galbreath of the highway patrol. The defendant testified in his own behalf.

Charles Ratcliff, 32, of Madison county, is scheduled to go on trial in Common Pleas court Friday on a charge of illegal manufacture of liquor. He was arrested after officers confiscated a small still on a Jackson township farm.

4,500 Persons Afflicted By Influenza; Mercury -60 In Yukon

By International News Service

Bitter cold, blizzards and rain squalls swept portions of the United States today.

Four persons were reported killed when a snowslide smashed the frame house in Bingham Canyon, Utah, occupied by Mrs. Stana Thomas and her five children. Mrs. Thomas and two of her children were among those feared killed when the avalanche struck two houses.

The worst blizzard in recent years swept Utah and buried highways, roads and railroad tracks under more than a foot of snow and deep drifts.

The Sanpete flyer, a Denver and Rio Grande Western passenger train, was reported derailed and marooned in the deep snow near Nephi, Utah.

A bitter cold wave, moving eastward from the Rocky mountains, preceded the snow storm. Chill weather extended far into the South, accompanied by rain squalls.

A second storm raged down on the Pacific coast that was lashed with snow, hail and rain yesterday.

Although the cold had brought a sharp end to the threats of a major flood in the lower Ohio river valley, many families driven from their homes beside swollen side streams were ill-prepared to meet the freezing weather.

Hundreds were inoculated against disease and an epidemic of pneumonia remained a threat as relief agencies worked overtime to provide sufferers with shelter and warm clothing.

The cold brought widespread illness in most sections. Influenza cases increased in direct ratio with the plunging mercury.

Out of a population of 40,000 in Danville, Ill., 4,500 were laid low with the flu yesterday and hundreds of cases were reported in Chicago and other centers.

The cold was the most bitter of the winter in a fairly narrow strip along the northern portion of the country. After a narrow squeak Chicago again escaped the zero mark but minus readings were common a few hundred miles north.

At Westhope, N. D., the mercury shrunk to 44 degrees below zero and it was only a few degrees warmer throughout most of South Dakota.

General Miaja Says His Soldiers To Fight To The End

LONDON, Feb. 9—Surrender of the Balearic island of Minorca to Generalissimo Francisco Franco brought the Spanish civil war closer to its conclusion today.

The cruiser Devonshire, aboard which negotiations regarding transfer of the island to Franco's insurgents were carried on, left Port Mahon, Minorca, this morning. It was understood the Devonshire had taken aboard 450 Minorcan supporters, including government leaders of the island.

This reported evacuation was regarded as definite proof the surrender had been agreed on.

F. D. AND GLASS IN BITTER SPLIT

Breach Widens Over Vote Against Roberts; Solon Charges "Purge"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—The breach between President Roosevelt and Senator Carter Glass (D) of Virginia, was greatly widened today by the Virginian's blunt accusation that the President sought to "purge" him and his colleague, Senator Harry F. Byrd, from the senate.

In a blistering statement, the 81 year old Glass, an old-line Democrat, denied the President's charge that he and Byrd blocked confirmation of a Virginia judge for political purposes.

He also denied any effort to interfere with administration patronage when he, along with Byrd, objected to confirmation of Judge Floyd Roberts for the federal court for the western district of Virginia.

Declaring that he and Byrd proposed appointees "incomparably superior" to Roberts, whose nomination was rejected by the senate by a vote of 72 to 29, Glass said "it is to be deplored that they should have been rejected by the appointive power merely through a desire to purge the junior senator (Byrd) next year and the senior senator of Virginia later, should I live longer than the intrigues hope."

Glass' statement was occasioned by the President's letter to Roberts in which he accused the senators from Virginia of dictating the vote to the senate. Glass and Byrd said the appointment was "personally obnoxious" to them and asked their colleagues to vote against confirmation for that reason. They accused the President of setting up Gov. James H. Price, of Virginia, as chief patronage dispenser, and said they were not extended due consideration regarding the appointment.

Glass said that he and Byrd had proposed Judge A. C. Buchanan, of the Virginia circuit court, and Frank Tavenner, an assistant U. S. district attorney, for the western district judgeship.

Reiterating that Buchanan and Tavenner was suggested solely because of their qualifications, Glass said that "this is no fight for patronage."

Murphy had been accused of taking the auto of Homer McCain, Walnut street, his brother-in-law, on Dec. 5. Murphy's defense was on the grounds that he had been requested by McCain to take the car, drive it to Waverly, and dispose of it in the Scioto river for which he was to receive $10.

It was charged the car was taken from Court street when McCain was attending a theatre. Murphy was arrested in Waverly by the state highway patrol. The car was found abandoned in Waverly.

McCain denied any such alleged conspiracy. He had notified police of the theft and said the only insurance on the car was that of a loan company.

The state called five witnesses, Mr. McCain, Police Chief William McCrady, Mayor William B. Cady, Harry Bartholomew and Corp. Galbreath of the highway patrol. The defendant testified in his own behalf.

4,500 Persons Afflicted By Influenza; Mercury -60
In Yukon

By International News Service
Bitter cold, blizzards and rain squalls swept portions of the United States today.

Four persons were reported killed when a snowslide smashed the frame house in Bingham Canyon, Utah, occupied by Mrs. Stana Thomas and her five children. Mrs. Thomas and two of her children were among those feared killed when the avalanche struck two houses.

The worst blizzard in recent years swept Utah and buried highways, roads and railroad tracks under more than a foot of snow and deep drifts.

The Sanpete flyer, a Denver and Rio Grande Western passenger train, was reported derailed and marooned in the deep snow near Nephi, Utah.

A bitter cold wave, moving eastward from the Rocky mountains, preceded the snow storm. Chill weather extended far into the South, accompanied by rain squalls.

A second storm raged down on the Pacific coast that was lashed with snow, hail and rain yesterday.

Although the cold had brought a sharp end to the threats of a major flood in the lower Ohio river valley, many families driven from their homes beside swollen side streams were ill-prepared to meet the freezing weather.

Hundreds Inoculated

Hundreds were inoculated against disease and an epidemic of pneumonia remained a threat as relief agencies worked overtime to provide sufferers with shelter and warm clothing.

The cold brought widespread illness in most sections. Influenza cases increased in direct ratio with the plunging mercury.

Out of a population of 40,000 in Danville, Ill., 4,500 were laid low with the flu yesterday and hundreds of cases were reported in Chicago and other centers.

The cold was the most bitter of the winter in a fairly narrow strip along the northern portion of the country. After a narrow squeak Chicago again escaped the zero mark but minus readings were common a few hundred miles north.

At Westhope, N. D., the mercury shrunk to 44 degrees below zero and it was only a few degrees warmer throughout most of South Dakota.

HOUSE TO DELAY ANTI-NUDIST ACT FOR ONE WEEK

COLUMBUS, Feb. 9.—Delaying further consideration of the Kellar anti-nudist bill for one week, members of the house judiciary committee said today they doubt whether a workable measure can be devised without interfering with legitimate activities, such as surgery, medical examination and posing for artists.

Author of the bill intended to rid Ohio of nudist camps was Rep. L. F. Kellar. As a former Delaware county prosecutor, he encountered legal difficulties in attempting to curb activities of nudists.

Rep. J. E. Betts, judiciary committee chairman, observed that "it looks to me like we are trying to outlaw that old Adam and Eve scandal."

The federal judge, it was understood, was considering taking the express plane for the Florida city as the quickest means of responding to the demand for his appearance before a federal grand jury to explain his judicial conduct.

If he goes, he will be accompanied by Mrs. Thomas and by G. H. Meyer, an operative of the United States department of justice, who boarded the liner Santa Barbara at the Cristobal breakwater at 5 a. m. to meet him.

A battery of physicians was summoned to the pope's bedside. A short while later, Papal Secretary of State Cardinal Pacelli and Cardinals Ratti, Serafini, Tardini, Montini and Mella were called.

F. D. AND GLASS IN BITTER SPLIT

Breach Widens Over Vote
Against Roberts; Solon
Charges "Purge"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The breach between President Roosevelt and Senator Carter Glass (D) of Virginia, was greatly widened today by the Virginian's blunt accusation that the President sought to "purge" him and his colleague, Senator Harry F. Byrd, from the senate.

In a blistering statement, the 81 year old Glass, an old-line Democrat, denied the President's charge that he and Byrd blocked confirmation of a Virginia judge for political purposes.

He also denied any effort to interfere with administration patronage when he, along with Byrd, objected to confirmation of Judge Floyd Roberts for the federal court for the western district of Virginia.

Declaring that he and Byrd proposed appointees "incomparably superior" to Roberts, whose nomination was rejected by the senate by a vote of 72 to 9, Glass said "it is to be deplored that they should have been rejected by the appointing power merely through a desire to purge the junior senator (Byrd) next year and the senior senator of Virginia later, should I live longer than the intrigues hope."

Glass' statement was occasioned by the President's letter to Roberts in which he accused the senators from Virginia of dictating the vote to the senate. Glass and Byrd said the appointment was "personally obnoxious" to them and asked their colleagues to vote against confirmation for that reason. They accused the President of setting up Gov. James H. Price, of Virginia, as chief patronage dispenser, and said they were not extended due consideration regarding the appointment.

Glass said that he and Byrd had proposed Judge A. C. Buchanan, of the Virginia circuit court, and Frank Tavenner, an assistant U. S. district attorney, for the western district judgeship.

Reiterating that Buchanan and Tavenner were qualified solely because of their suggestions, Glass said that "this is no fight for patronage."

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Surrender of the Balearic island of Minorca to Generalissimo Francisco Franco brought the Spanish civil war closer to its conclusion today.

While no official announcement of the surrender has yet been made, it was understood that Spanish government authorities, responding to an appeal from Great Britain to take this step to avoid further bloodshed, had agreed to hand over the island voluntarily.

The cruiser Devonshire, aboard which negotiations regarding transfer of the island to Franco's insurgents were carried on, left Port Mahon, Minorca, this morning. It was understood the Devonshire had taken aboard 450 Minorcan supporters, including government leaders of the island.

This reported evacuation was regarded as definite proof the surrender had been agreed on.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Without a dissenting vote and only twenty minutes of debate, the house today approved an appropriation of $100,000 to finance the Dies committee's investigation into un-American activities until 1940.

The action came after both Democratic and Republican leaders had expressed hope that the committee would recommend to combat alien "isms" legislation during this session of congress.

House Minority Leader Martin told the chamber that the Republicans are "100 percent" back of the inquiry and he called on the Dies committee to "investigate Communism in government departments, if Communism exists there."

Pointing out that the country is spending huge sums for defense, Martin asserted that "certainly it is not an unwise expenditure to give $100,000 to an investigation of forces which are trying to undermine the government at home."

Tours To Be Conducted In Central Ohio During Major Event

Seventy-five Circleville and Pickaway county persons interested in the poultry industry attended the World's Poultry Congress banquet held Wednesday evening in the Methodist church, Renick Dunlap, Pickaway township, chairman of the county Congress committee, was chairman of the meeting.

Speakers were L. L. Rummell, Columbus, and C. M. Ferguson, of the poultry department, Ohio State university, associated with the publicity department of the Congress. Music was furnished by Hilaire Haecker, accordionist, and a family group of Stoutsville.

Highlights of the Congress were outlined by Mr. Ferguson. Tours throughout the period of the Congress will be conducted over Ohio and other states. Some of these tours will bring visitors to central Ohio, including Columbus, Circleville and the parks of Hocking county.

"Poultry does not bring as much agricultural income to farmers of Pickaway county as hogs, dairy cows and beef cattle, and yet this annual return from hens is about a third of a million dollars," said Mr. Rummell. He urged poultry producers to take a Summer vacation which would include a visit to this Congress at Cleveland, July 27 to Aug. 7.

Ohio ranks third in the United States in poultry income, according to the speaker, but it has not attained distinction as some states have in marketing quality poultry and eggs. Only a few farmers' organizations attempt to sell their eggs and poultry on grade in this state, and most of this produce is now handled through food stores of northern Ohio. There is opportunity for further development of poultry cooperatives in central and southern counties, he pointed out, because the markets here now are unable to buy sufficient Ohio quality eggs and poultry, and the preference of the food stores is for Ohio produced merchandise.

Half a million people or more are expected in Cleveland next Summer for the Congress, which will be the largest rural exposition of America. This is the first time this Congress has ever been held in the United States. Floor space will amount to 23 acres, and will be devoted to educational exhibits, commercial displays, poultry show, scientific meetings, judging contests, a youth program and similar features. In the "Food Palace", food stores will be represented with an extensive display showing processes in candling, grading and packing of quality eggs.

Houses of parliament . . . in plot, too?

Windsor castle . . . bomb target?

WHILE increased guards were stationed around Britain's historic buildings in London, including Windsor castle and the houses of parliament, following discovery of a bizarre conspiracy, allegations that the outlawed Irish Republican army had formed a plan to blast the British out of Ireland were made in police court at the trial of 12 men accused of conspiring to cause explosions. Scotland Yard officials, who attribute the recent wave of bombings in England to the outlawed group, said details of the plot were uncovered in a raid at Belfast.

VETERANS PLAN ACTIVITY, TALK FEB. 17 EVENT

Howard Hall post, American Legion, decided Wednesday night to hold a meeting on March 22 at the Veterans' hospital in Chillicothe. Instead of holding a business session, the members will provide some sort of entertainment for the veterans.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the meeting includes E. C. Ebert, Joseph M. Lynch and Orin Dreisbach.

The post went on record as opposing a bill in the house of representatives providing for county commissioners to appoint members of the Soldiers' Relief Commission. Appointments for the last 60 years, members were told, have been made by Common Pleas court judges. The post opposed the bill contending they could see no reason for changing the appointing authority.

Further plans were discussed for

Million Dollar Night to be staged by the post in Memorial hall on Feb. 17. Persons attending will be given a million dollars in stage money to be used for all activities. Valuable prizes will be given those who have the largest amount of stage money at the end of the activities. A door prize will be awarded.

The drum corps will go to Chillicothe Friday night to play and attend a boxing show in the Winter Garden.

Friday the Grand brings to its screen a double bill. A Man to Remember and Sunrise Trail.

The dramatic story of A Man to Remember centers about the activities of a kindly, small town, doctor. The film is rich in youthful romance, with Anne Shirley and Lee Bowman the central figures in the absorbing love affair.

AT THE CLIFTONA

A new brunette recently appeared in Hollywood in the person of Joan Bennett, long one of the screen's most pronounced blondes.

Miss Bennett is seen with dark tresses through almost the entire length of "Trade Winds," the Walter Wanger picture opening at the Cliftona Theatre on Sunday in which she is co-starred with Fredric March. She appeared as her natural self during only the first two days of production.

In the story, after a man is murdered in San Francisco, Miss Bennett flees to Hawaii and there has her hair dyed as a means of disguise before she proceeds to Japan

AT THE CIRCLE

An absolutely new idea in western stories is presented in the latest Tom Tyler starring vehicle, "Mystery Ranch," which will be the feature on the bill at the Circle Theatre tonight for three days.

Instead of opening the story showing Tom as a dyed-in-the-wool cowboy, fighting to avenge the wrongs of cattlemen, the star this time plays the role of a writer of western stories which, to his stern parent, are so wild-eyed as to be unbelievable. Tom's position in the controversy is that his stories are too tame and that he needs a visit to the West in order to obtain first hand material.

Second feature on the program is "Thanks a Million" featuring Dick Powell, with Ann Dvorak, Fred Allen in supporting roles.

Houses of parliament . . . in plot, too?

Windsor castle . . . bomb target?

WHILE increased guards were stationed around Britain's historic buildings in London, including Windsor castle and the houses of parliament, following discovery of a bizarre conspiracy, allegations that the outlawed Irish Republican army had formed a plan to blast the British out of Ireland were made in police court at the trial of 12 men accused of conspiring to cause explosions. Scotland Yard officials, who attribute the recent wave of bombings in England to the outlawed group, said details of the plot were uncovered in a raid at Belfast.

VETERANS PLAN ACTIVITY, TALK FEB. 17 EVENT

Howard Hall post, American Legion, decided Wednesday night to hold a meeting on March 22 at the Veterans' hospital in Chillicothe. Instead of holding a business session, the members will provide some sort of entertainment for the veterans.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the meeting includes E. C. Ebert, Joseph M. Lynch and Orin Dreisbach. The post went on record as opposing a bill in the house of representatives providing for county commissioners to appoint members of the Soldiers' Relief Commission. Appointments for the last 60 years, members were told, have been made by Common Pleas court judges. The post opposed the bill contending they could see no reason for changing the appointing authority.

Further plans were discussed for

Million Dollar Night to be staged by the post in Memorial hall on Feb. 17. Persons attending will be given a million dollars in stage money to be used for all activities. Valuable prizes will be given those who have the largest amount of stage money at the end of the activities. A door prize will be awarded.

The drum corps will go to Chillicothe Friday night to play and attend a boxing show in the Winter Garden.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND

Jesse James will be shown on the screen of the Grand Theatre tonight for the last time.

Friday the Grand brings to its screen a double bill. A Man to Remember and Sunrise Trail.

The dramatic story of A Man to Remember centers about the activities of a kindly, small town, doctor. The film is rich in youthful romance, with Anne Shirley and Lee Bowman the central figures in the absorbing love affair.

Edward Ellis is cast as the rural physician around whose career of sacrifice and generosity the vital story is woven.

AT THE CLIFTONA

A new brunette recently appeared in Hollywood in the person of Joan Bennett, long one of the screen's most pronounced blondes. Miss Bennett is seen with dark tresses through almost the entire length of "Trade Winds," the Walter Wanger picture opening at the Cliftona Theatre on Sunday in which she is co-starred with Fredric March. She appeared as her natural self during only the first two days of production.

In the story, after a man is murdered in San Francisco, Miss Bennett flees to Hawaii and there has her hair dyed as a means of disguise before she proceeds to Japan and other countries of the Far East.

AT THE CIRCLE

An absolutely new idea in western stories is presented in the latest Tom Tyler starring vehicle, "Mystery Ranch," which will be the feature on the bill at the Circle Theatre tonight for three days.

Instead of opening the story showing Tom as a dyed-in-the-wool cowboy, fighting to avenge the wrongs of cattlemen, the star this time plays the role of a writer of western stories which, to his stern parent, are so wild-eyed as to be unbelievable. Tom's position in the controversy is that his stories are too tame and that he needs a visit to the West in order to obtain first hand material.

Second feature on the program is "Thanks a Million" featuring Dick Powell, with Ann Dvorak, Fred Allen in supporting roles.

IT'S A HIT! The NEW Firestone CHAMPION TIRE

Because IT'S THE ONLY TIRE MADE WITH THE NEW SAFETY-LOCK CORD BODY and GEAR-GRIP TREAD

CAR OWNERS everywhere are acclaiming the extra blowout protection and non-skid safety of the new Firestone Champion Tire. And automobile manufacturers, knowing its outstanding performance, have adopted it for their new 1939 models. On every hand you hear, "It's the most effective tire we have ever had on wet pavement and in mud and snow!" It's the hit of 1939!

The Firestone Champion Tire is a completely new achievement in safety engineering and the result of a new and revolutionary means of locking greater safety into the cord body of a tire. This is accomplished first, by the use of a new type of tire cord called "Safety-Lock," in which the cotton fibers are more compactly interwoven to give greater strength. And then the fibers in each individual cord, the cords in each ply and the plies themselves are all securely locked together by a new and advanced Firestone process of Gum-Dipping, which provides amazingly greater strength—and greater strength means greater safety.

The new Safety-Lock cord construction gives the added strength that makes possible the use of the new thicker, tougher, deeper Firestone Gear-Grip Tread, which provides remarkably longer non-skid mileage. This sensational new tread is called "Gear-Grip" because of its unique design which has more than three thousand sharp-edged angles that grip the road with a sure-footed hold to protect against skidding and to assure a safe stop.

Come in today and equip your car with a set of new Firestone Champion Tires, the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

GRACIE ALLEN

Gracie Allen's upside down type-writer has turned out a thrilling melodrama titled "East Lynn or They Went That Way, Sheriff," for dramatization on the weekly Burns & Allen show Friday at 8:30 p. m. over CBS. George Burns will play the cruel father, Ray Noble the sheriff, and Paul Douglas and Frank Parker, the hero. (One is a spare.) Gracie is slated for the heroine's role. Top tunes of the day to be played by Ray

Noble are "You Must Have Been a Beautiful Baby" and "Sweet Little Headache."

GENE AUTRY GUEST

Gene Autry, Hollywood's No. 1 singing cowboy, will come out of the West, to fill the guest spot on the Feb. 16 broadcast of "Tune-Up Time," the new CBS variety series which features Walter O'Keefe, Andre Kostelanetz with a 45-piece orchestra, and Kay Thompson and her Rhythm Singers.

The horse opera idol, who gets 5,000 fan letters every week and has never played a sophisticated screen role, will be heard on "Tune-Up Time" in two songs of his own composition—"Old November Moon," from his picture, "Western Jamboree," and "Goodbye Pinto," from "Man From Music Mountain."

ANDY GETS CAP

Pine Ridge University will gain its first alumnus in Andy Devine, Jack Benny's gravel-voiced cohort, when Lum and Abner pour him into a cap and gown on Friday, Feb. 10, at 7:15 p. m., in their broadcast over the WABC-Columbia network.

Andy, who will be awarded the honorary degree of "Doctor of Articulation," is the first of several notables who will be thus honored by the two rustic comics who recently expanded from grocery store keepers to pedagogues. According to Lum and Abner, all candidates for their degrees will be scrutinized carefully and folks so honored will be restricted to those who have won their P.R.U. in life.

IT'S A HIT! The NEW Firestone CHAMPION TIRE

Because IT'S THE ONLY TIRE MADE WITH THE NEW SAFETY-LOCK CORD BODY and GEAR-GRIP TREAD

CAR OWNERS everywhere are acclaiming the extra blowout protection and non-skid safety of the new Firestone Champion Tire. And automobile manufacturers, knowing its outstanding performance, have adopted it for their new 1939 models. On every hand you hear, "It's the most effective tire we have ever had on wet pavement and in mud and snow!" It's the hit of 1939!

The Firestone Champion Tire is a completely new achievement in safety engineering and the result of a new and revolutionary means of locking greater safety into the cord body of a tire. This is accomplished first, by the use of a new type of tire cord called "Safety-Lock," in which the cotton fibers are more compactly interwoven to give greater strength. And then the fibers in each individual cord, the cords in each ply and the plies themselves are all securely locked together by a new and advanced Firestone process of Gum-Dipping, which provides amazingly greater strength—and greater strength means greater safety.

The new Safety-Lock cord construction gives the added strength that makes possible the use of the new thicker, tougher, deeper Firestone Gear-Grip Tread, which provides remarkably longer non-skid mileage. This sensational new tread is called "Gear-Grip" because of its unique design which has more than three thousand sharp-edged angles that grip the road with a sure-footed hold to protect against skidding and to assure a safe stop.

Come in today and equip your car with a set of new Firestone Champion Tires, the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

LONDON—British and French recognition of General Franco within several days was foreseen. Anglo-French support of the insurgent monarchist faction was expected, resisting Italo-German backing for insurgent fascists.

PARIS—Government president Manuel Azana arrived. Premier Daladier deliberated recognition of the insurgents as Franco was reported to have rejected a plebiscite. The presence of Government Premier Juan Negrin on the border was seen as presaging military collapse, despite Miaja's reported stand.

BERLIN—The German press criticized Anglo-French dealings with Franco, accusing London and Paris of using economic pressure to "interfere" with the Fascist triumph.

WASHINGTON — Informed quarters gave scant encouragement to the idea of world disarmament conference which might be called by President Roosevelt to mitigate the dangers of the European situation.

Measures Go In Hopper;

mended for passage in the house and the parole reorganization bill already introduced, the administration was left with the problem of completing draft of the measure abolishing the present tax commission.

Senate Majority Leader Frank E. Whittemore said he expected the tax commission bill to reach the senate floor this afternoon. The senate unemployment compensation "ripper" also was ready for a vote.

Governor John W. Bricker revealed at a press conference that he had two briefs setting up both sides of the constitutionality of the adjutant general life tenure act and that he was studying them.

"I have not discussed any bill repealing the act with anyone," the governor declared, "but I think there is some difference of opinion in the national guard regarding life tenure."

He also said he had talked with no one in the legislature on the civil service commission "ripper" bills, but McGregor stated that a house bill offered by Rep. Ralph Marshall (R-Muskingum) had administration support.

There was some question about support of an identical bill introduced by Sen. Charles W. Maston (R-Trinway) however. Whittemore said he did not know that it was an administration measure.

Both bills propose a three-member commission with terms of six years and a personnel director who would have jurisdiction in all civil service cases. Commissioners would be paid $3,000 the first year and $2,000 a year thereafter. The present commission of two members would be abolished.

The house education committee recommended for passage the school deficit refunder bill which would authorize the state treasurer to take up school notes with inactive funds of the state treasury. The measure was regarded by house leaders as a solution to the $17,000,000 deficit in the school foundation fund.

Passage of two measures affecting state universities was completed in the senate. Both carried unanimously.

One gives state universities the power to refund notes issued for construction and maintenance of dormitories at Kent State, Bowling Green, Ohio, Miami and Ohio State universities.

The other reapportions $300,000 set aside for W. P. A. improvements at Kent State. Sen. Robert A. Pollock (R-Canton) sponsor of the bill, said it would put 120 men to work.

Un-American activities in the state would be investigated by a legislative committee of the house and senate under provisions of a

MILLIGAN ASKS MEN TO SUPPORT SCOUT PROGRAM

Protection of the Constitution and the attendant Bill of Rights, on which the future of America rests, depends on the training of our present youth, Fred J. Milligan, Columbus attorney, told Circleville Rotarians Thursday.

Mr. Milligan, a member of the executive board of the Central Ohio Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America, spoke in behalf of the observance of annual Boy Scout Week.

He urged men of business, industry and professions to give their full support to the Boy Scout movement, a training for young men that is entirely American.

Mr. Milligan is a past president of the Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce and is one of the recipients of the awards given by Columbus businessmen to young men of the city for outstanding service to the city.

The Circleville Cub troop, under Barton Deming, Cub Master, presented a brief demonstration of a den meeting. Those participating were David Orr, den chief, Charles Will, Richard Pettit, and Barton Deming, Jr.

joint resolution offered by Rep. John J. Carney (D-Cleveland.)

The resolution was considered an outgrowth of the proposed senate investigation of alleged subversive activities at Ohio State university sponsored by Senator Pollock.

ers, taken aboard the British cruiser Devonshire, indicated a "bloodless" insurgent victory. LONDON—British and French recognition of General Franco within several days was foreseen. Anglo-French support of the insurgent monarchist faction was expected, resisting Italo-German backing for insurgent fascists.

PARIS—Government president Manuel Azana arrived. Premier Daladier deliberated recognition of the insurgents as Franco was reported to have rejected a plebiscite. The presence of Government Premier Juan Negrin on the border was seen as presaging military collapse, despite Miaja's reported stand.

BERLIN—The German press criticized Anglo-French dealings with Franco, accusing London and Paris of using economic pressure to "interfere" with the Fascist triumph.

WASHINGTON — Informed quarters gave scant encouragement to the idea of world disarmament conference which might be called by President Roosevelt to mitigate the dangers of the European situation.

VOTES NEAR ON "RIPPER" BILLS

Measures Go In Hopper;

mended for passage in the house and the parole reorganization bill already introduced, the administration was left with the problem of completing draft of the measure abolishing the present tax commission.

Senate Majority Leader Frank E. Whittemore said he expected the tax commission bill to reach the senate floor this afternoon. The senate unemployment compensation "ripper" also was ready for a vote.

Governor John W. Bricker revealed at a press conference that he had two briefs setting up both sides of the constitutionality of the adjutant general file tenure act and that he was studying them.

"I have not discussed any bill repealing the act with anyone," the governor declared, "but I think there is some difference of opinion in the national guard regarding life tenure."

He also said he had talked with no one in the legislature on the civil service commission "ripper" bills, but McGregor stated that a house bill offered by Rep. Ralph Marshall (R-Muskingum) had administration support.

There was some question about support of an identical bill introduced by Sen. Charles W. Mason (R-Trinway) however. Whittemore said he did not know that it was an administration measure.

Both bills propose a three-member commission with terms of six years and a personnel director who would have jurisdiction in all civil service cases. Commissioners would be paid $3,000 the first year and $2,000 a year thereafter. The present commission of two members would be abolished.

The house education committee recommended for passage the school deficit refunder bill which would authorize the state treasurer to take up school notes with inactive funds of the state treasury. The measure was regarded by house leaders as a solution to the $17,000,000 deficit in the school foundation fund.

Passage of two measures affecting state universities was completed in the senate. Both carried unanimously.

One gives state universities the power to refund notes issued for construction and maintenance of dormitories at Kent State, Bowling Green, Ohio, Miami and Ohio State universities.

The other reappropriates $30,000 set aside for W. P. A. improvements at Kent State. Sen. Robert A. Pollock (R-Canton) sponsor of the bill, said it would put 120 men to work.

Un-American activities in the state would be investigated by a legislative committee of the house and senate under provisions of a

PERKINS TO WIN VINDICATION BY COMMITTEE VOTE

Judiciary Members Indicate Rep. Thomas Without Basis For Ouster Charges

SEVERAL MEN QUOTED

Failure To Deport Bridges, Alleged Communist, Cited In Solon's Complaint

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 — The house judiciary committee will vindicate Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and her aides of impeachment charges unless there are extraordinary developments in the case, a canvass of committee members disclosed today.

Final action of the committee on the impeachment charges, filed by Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R) of New Jersey, may be delayed for a week, in spite of a drive of a group of members for prompt action.

The big fight in the committee, it was disclosed, is likely to come on an effort to censure the department of labor for its action in deportation and immigration matters instead of on the Thomas resolution, which seeks to impeach its officers.

The committee canvass showed that both leading Democratic and Republican members of the committee believe that Thomas has failed to make out an impeachment case.

Rep. Celler (D) of New York, hoped to force the issue at the next meeting of the committee.

No Ground For Charge

"I shall move to exonerate Miss Perkins at the first opportunity," he announced. "There is no ground for the charges."

Rep. Walter (D) of Pennsylvania joined other Democratic members in predicting exoneration of the secretary.

"I don't see how the committee could do otherwise," he said. "I don't think there is much to it."

A leading Democrat, one of two named by Chairman Sumners (D)

PETTENGILL "The Gentleman from Indiana"

THE SHARECROPPERS' FLIGHT

Near New Madrid, Missouri, 1300 sharecroppers have been camping on the highways. They have done so to attract public attention to their plight. They want government to do something about it. But what? And what has government already done to them?

Dispute exists as to who these poor wretches are, why they are there, what caused their protest. How many are genuine sharecroppers, how many are loafers who never worked in cotton fields I do not know. How many are the victims of Simon Legrees and how many the victims of Washington, D. C., I cannot say.

But regardless of how responsibility should be apportioned between landlords, laziness and legislation, it be-

PETTENGILL comes plain that crop restriction has created new problems for every old one; that Jefferson is no longer to be laughed at when he said, "Were we directed from Washington when to sow and when to reap we should soon want bread." The poor devils at New Madrid want bread.

Consider the following. From 1928 to 1932 we averaged 40,554,000 acres planted to cotton. The record crop of 1938 was grown on 26,904,000 acres. That is a reduction of 13,650,000 acres. Let us get a bird's eye view of 13,650,000 acres. Assume that Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Delaware, and two additional Delawarees were moved into the cotton belt. Assume the every acre in these states, even land occupied by towns, cities, highways, pasture lots, and the like, had been planted to cotton in 1928-1932. Assume thousands of men plowing, harrowing, planting and picking cotton covering all these states.

Now we come to the pay-off. Government comes along and says, "Stop planting cotton" to these thousands of men. That is what we mean by 13,650,000 fewer acres planted to cotton. What happens to these men?

Two great parties, Republican and Democrat—one with the Farm Board, the other with A.A.A., each with a Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Hyde and Mr. Wallace, advocating that the South plow under cotton—both with good intentions, and with the largest purse in the world, have been trying to "save" cotton by legislation. We have ten years of this and it has cost hundreds of millions. Still the question remains, what happens to these men?

We planted 13,650,000 less. Meantime Brazil, Egypt, India, China, Russia have planted millions of acres more. With what result?

In 1931 we furnished 45 percent of all cotton consumed abroad; in 1936, 32 percent; in 1937, 23 percent. In 1911-1913 we grew 64 percent of the world's total; in 1937, 37 percent of the total. In 1936-37 foreign mills took 2,000,000 bales less of our cotton than in 1933-34, and 6,000,000 bales more of foreign grown cotton.

Thus farmers in other lands grew and sold millions of bales that our farmers were paid by our consumers not to produce!

For every five bales of cotton market lost to the South, one Southern family (man, wife and children) is thrown out of work. What happens to these men, women and children? Is New Madrid the answer, and a succession of New Madrids for a generation to come?

The South can do one of three things, or a combination of the three. Either or all will be felt throughout the nation.

First, the men, black and white, thrown out of work by the cotton curtailment program, can migrate to the industrial labor centers of the North—Detroit, Toledo, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, etc. Here they will compete for jobs with Northern labor and act as a dead weight on Northern wage scales.

Second, they can grow in the South crops heretofore grown in the North—corn, potatoes, garden truck, cattle, dairy products. This will invade markets of Northern farmers who previously grew these crops; further increase farm surpluses in the North and decrease farm commodity prices.

Third, the displaced Southern cotton field hand can go on the dole permanently and be supported the rest of his life by public taxation or public debt. Somebody must pay the bill.

The problem made graphic by New Madrid affects every State in the Union. It raises serious questions whether planned economy is so much smarter than Tom Jefferson and free enterprise. It becomes plainer every day here and abroad that planned economy is all plans and no economy either in money or men.

PERKINS TO WIN VINDICATION BY COMMITTEE VOTE

Judiciary Members Indicate Rep. Thomas Without Basis For Ouster Charges

SEVERAL MEN QUOTED

Failure To Deport Bridges, Alleged Communist, Cited In Solon's Complaint

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 — The house judiciary committee will vindicate Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and her aides of impeachment charges unless there are extraordinary developments in the case, a canvass of committee members disclosed today.

Final action of the committee on the impeachment charges, filed by Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R) of New Jersey, may be delayed for a week, in spite of a drive of a group of members for prompt action.

The big fight in the committee, it was disclosed, is likely to come on an effort to censure the department of labor for its action in deportation and immigration matters instead of on the Thomas resolution, which seeks to impeach its officers.

The committee canvass showed that both leading Democratic and Republican members of the committee believe that Thomas has failed to make out an impeachment case.

Rep. Celler (D) of New York, hoped to force the issue at the next meeting of the committee.

No Ground For Charge
"I shall move to exonerate Miss Perkins at the first opportunity," he announced. "There is no ground for the charges."

Rep. Walter (D) of Pennsylvania joined other Democratic members in predicting exoneration of the secretary.

"I don't see how the committee could do otherwise," he said. "I don't think there is much to it."

A leading Democrat, one of two named by Chairman Sumners (D)

PETTENGILL

"The Gentleman from Indiana"

THE SHARECROPPERS' FLIGHT

Near New Madrid, Missouri, 1300 sharecroppers have been camping on the highways. They have done so to attract public attention to their plight. They want government to do something about it. But what? And what has government already done to them?

Dispute exists as to who these poor wretches are, why they are there, what caused their protest. How many are genuine sharecroppers, how many are loafers who never worked in cotton fields I do not know. How many are the victims of Simon Legrees and how many the victims of Washington, D. C., I cannot say.

But regardless of how responsibility should be apportioned between landlords, laziness and legislation, it becomes a question of how to help them. The poor devils at New Madrid want bread.

Consider the following. From 1928 to 1932 we averaged 40,554,000 acres planted to cotton. The record crop of 1938 was grown on 26,904,000 acres. That is a reduction of 13,650,000 acres. Let us get a bird's eye view of 13,650,000 acres. Assume that Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Is-

PETTENGILL comes plain that crop restriction has created new problems for every old one; that Jefferson is no longer to be laughed at when he said, "Were we directed from Washington to sow and when to reap we should soon want bread". The poor devils at New Madrid want bread.

Consider the following. From 1928 to 1932 we averaged 40,554,000 acres planted to cotton. The record crop of 1938 was grown on 26,904,000 acres. That is a reduction of 13,650,000 acres. Let us get a bird's eye view of 13,650,000 acres. Assume that Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Delaware, and two additional Delawares were moved into the cotton belt. Assume the every acre in these states, even land occupied by towns, cities, highways, pasture lots, and the like, had been planted to cotton in 1928-1932. Assume thousands of men plowing, harrowing, planting and picking cotton covering all these states.

Now we come to the pay-off. Government comes along and says, "Stop planting cotton" to these thousands of men. That is what we mean by 13,650,000 fewer acres planted to cotton. What happens to these men?

Two great parties, Republican and Democrat—one with the Farm Board, the other with A.A.A., each with a Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Hyde and Mr. Wallace, advocating that the South plow under cotton—both with good intentions, and with the largest purse in the world, have been trying to "save" cotton by legislation. We have ten years of this and it has cost hundreds of millions. Still the question remains, what happens to these men?

We planted 13,650,000 less. Meantime Brazil, Egypt, India, China, Russia have planted millions of acres more. With what result?

In 1931 we furnished 45 percent of all cotton consumed abroad; in 1936, 32 percent; in 1937, 23 percent. In 1911-1913 we grew 64 percent of the world's total; in 1937, 37 percent of the total. Thus farmers in other lands grew and sold millions of bales that our farmers were paid by our consumers not to produce!

GERMAN HUMOR PUNISHED
THE experience of Werner Finck, German stage humorist, should be a lesson to all Germany not to be funny under the Nazi regime. At least, not in public. Finck had been in a concentration camp once, and really knew better. But his funnybone got the best of him. In the cafe where he was the chief attraction, the comedian entertained an audience of "the old landed gentry", who had come to Berlin for an agricultural show, by gently razzing the government.

At one point he would flop down and crawl around the stage on his hands and knees, and when the stooge would ask him what he was doing, he would reply: "Crawling, of course—the same as you've been doing for years." The old-fashioned landed gentry roared with appreciation. So now apparently Finck will be doing his crawling in the concentration camp again. He and several other actors who let their sense of humor overcome their reverence for Hitler, Goebbels and Company, have been formally expelled from the Reich "Chamber of Culture", alias the stage, for "lack of any positive attitude toward National Socialism."

As with so many other Nazi statements, this phrase seems to mean the precise opposite of what it says. The offending actors have had too positive an attitude toward a tyrannical government.

The Nazi bosses simply "can't take it." They are a curiously humorless lot. But then, if they had any sense of humor, they wouldn't be dictators.

WAR VS. WORK
FIGURES gathered by the International Labor Office, of which an American has recently become director, show an encouraging trend which many of us failed to note last year. The United States, in the last quarter of 1938, led all other countries in the reduction of unemployment. In the same period, more than half of the nations reporting to the labor office disclosed greater unemployment. Great Britain, for example, despite its huge rearmament program, had a substantial drop in jobs. Munitions-making has not solved England's employment problem and probably would not solve ours. Employment is advanced by constructive industrial and commercial activity.

It is a good thing to get this matter straight. If we must arm, let it be for the single purpose of defense, with no pretense of creating jobs. War is economically destructive, and preparation for it, however necessary for other reasons, is an economic handicap.

World At A Glance

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

President Roosevelt scared congress badly when he reminded the lawmakers, in his recent message to them, that they will have to accept the responsibility for any cuts they make in the national spending-allowance which he recommends.

The legislators are somewhere between the devil and the deep blue sea.

A majority of them undoubtedly are of the opinion that our voters predominantly believe Uncle Sam already is plenty far enough into the red, and their judgment is to pare down all they can. If they do not do it they are afraid their constituents will turn them down on a future election day. Yet if they do pare down and times tighten up, they know they'll be blamed for that, too.

Our solons are rather more apprehensive, in theory, of danger No. 1 than of danger No. 2.

In practice, however, No. 2 is more immediately threatening than No. 1.

If they indorse increased expenditures and deficits now, they foresee inflation and disaster in the long run—but maybe not for several election days to come. Meantime safety, for those several election days to come.

On the other hand, suppose congress begins to retrench forthwith. The pinch will be felt almost instantaneously—and on NEXT election day the chaps who advocated it will lose out, whatever later generations may say as to the soundness of today's legislators' policy. Indeed, today's crowd will not be remembered at all; they are especially interested in hanging onto their present jobs.

Our members of the 76th congress are aware of all this, but President Roosevelt emphatically rubbed the idea in when he called for copious billions without delay.

BALANCING THE BUDGET
An occasional lawmaker advocates a semi-balancing of huge expenditures by increased taxation.

Senator Robert M. LaFollette conspicuously is of this very small group.

He does not dispute the necessity for vast emergency revenues to meet emergency needs, but he does not like running into debt. "Let's have higher taxes," he urges, "to pay as we go along."

But nothing is more unpopular than higher taxes.

It is a wonder to me that a politician like "Young Bob" LaFollette has the nerve to plug for such a program. I question that he can get away with it. In fact, it's evident that the LaFollette regime in Wisconsin has been weakened by such an advocacy. "Young Phil" LaFollette already has been beaten for re-election as governor of the Badger State for promoting it. "Young Senator Bob" has not been beaten, because he is not up for reelection until 1940. But how about 1940?

MORE WEALTH TO TAX
President Roosevelt's proposition is that we do not need higher taxation if we have more wealth to tax.

In other words, assume that an individual has $1,000 worth of taxable property at a 10 percent rate; he is stuck for $100.

But assume that his country's prosperity is such as to give him $2,000 worth of taxable property, still at 10 percent. The government gets $200 at no increased burden on the tax-payer.

The fractions are immaterial, so long as they are proportionate. The administration takes it for granted that its reckoning will be roughly correct.

But will it prove to be so? That is what congress (99.5 percent of Republican members and about 50 percent of Democrats) is worrying about.

The Republicans are hopeful that the President is not correct and the Democrats (approximately half of them) suspect that he is wrong.

It makes a much mixed-up congressional session.

It isn't alone inter-parliamentary; it is inter-intra-parliamentary.

WASHINGTON—Behind the scenes the inner White House circle still is hopelessly trying to get AFL and CIO moguls together for a peace conference. Latest plan is for the President to invite the warring laborites to renew negotiations.

To prepare the ground for such a move Secretary Frances Perkins, with Harry Hopkins and Frank Murphy, who are liked in both camps, have been sounding out the rival leaders. The response so far has been wary but not discouraging.

Real inside is that with a few exceptions most of the leaders privately would like to bury the hatchet and make up. This is particularly true of state and local leaders. Both organizations are in serious financial straits, and the rank-and-file is fed up with the costly fighting.

The problem is how to get the big shots together. They have called one another every printable epithet, so that face-saving is a very important matter. An invitation from the President might turn the trick, and Roosevelt has told Miss Perkins he will issue one if she can get assurances in advance from the feudists that they will accept it.

BARCELONA'S FALL

Gradually the real facts regarding the fall of Barcelona are trickling out. It was always known that the Loyalists were outnumbered and out-equipped, but how severe were the handicaps against them has just been realized in Washington.

Here is a tabulation of Franco's armament compared with the Loyalists:

	Franco	Loyalists
Field guns	1,500	500
Planes	800	86
Tanks	320	60

Furthermore, whenever Franco lost equipment it was replaced almost immediately, being delivered by German warships which entered Spanish ports without any international restriction.

Meanwhile the Loyalists were receiving absolutely nothing from France. Since June the border has been shut tight in compliance with the French pledge of non-intervention. Only medical supplies arrived from France.

LOYALIST FIGHTERS

Compared man-for-man, American observers report the Loyalists as having the better army. Originally the Spanish Government had no army, most of the regular army having been taken over by Franco when the officers deserted to him.

Gradually, however, the Loyalists built up a new fighting force. The troops were self-trained, but in encounters where they had any real equipment, they made Franco's Italians look like repetition of the Battle of Caporetto.

During the advance on Barcelona, one Loyalist brigade performed the miracle of holding off Franco for 35 days without fresh ammunition, food or supplies of any kind. Living on "iron rations" they retreated inch by inch, using as little ammunition as possible, until they were fighting with their bare hands.

Finally they crumpled. It was shortly after this that Barcelona fell.

Sun Is Returning; Get a Share of It

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE WINTER solstice is behind us and the days of sunshine are returning.

The sun has always been regarded as the giver of life. For the Egyptians this was the supreme god. The Greek legend of Persephone tells of the annual return of that maiden from the lower world of darkness, welcoming back the sun, to charge into renewal the fruits, the flowers and the plants of the earth.

But we humans, just as much as the plants, need the sun and respond to its beneficent rays. Nay, more, according to Michelet, the great French historian, who said "Of all flowers, it is the human flower, which has the greatest need of the sun."

Modern science has furnished a reasonable explanation of those ancient beliefs. They are not superstitious, but can be put into exact mathematical statements of facts.

Bottled Energy

When you build a fire in the grate during the winter evenings, you have simply unbottled the solar energy which the coal or the wood, or the gas, or the oil, absorbed and stored many years ago. The movements that we make with our muscles are nothing else; simply the release of solar energy as it was stored up by plants and which we obtained in our food.

The story is told of the inventor, George Stevenson, who was watching one of the locomotives which his genius helped to perfect. "Answer me a question," he said, turning to his companion. "What sort of force is it that drives that train along?" "I should think it was the force of the engine," answered his friend. "No," said Stevenson, "sunlight."

Stored in Earth

"I assure you it is nothing else," he continued. "It is light that has lain stored in the earth for many thousands of years. The light absorbed by the plant during its growth is essential to the condensation of carbon and this light which has been buried in the coal for so many years, is now unearthed and being freed again, as in this locomotive, and serves great human ends."

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

This return of the sun with all of its powers for renewing energy properly renews our enthusiasm for life. Go out and get as much of it as you can. It is good for your body, good for blood, bones, skin—all the vitalizing processes of life. And in the world outside your own body it is renewing the vital forces of plants and animals, making chemical changes which before long will be utilized by your body for growth and health and strength.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. R.: "Can you please tell me whether 4 ounces of orange juice given daily to a baby 20 months old is too much? Can I still keep giving her strained, canned baby foods?"

Answer: Four ounces of orange juice is decidedly not too much for a baby 20 months old. Strained, canned baby foods are all right but at that age it is advisable to start having babies go on solid foods. Superior growth is helped by increasing the solid food as rapidly as the digestion will be able to take it.

DEATH AT THE MANOR

BY M. E. CORNE

RELEASED BY
CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

CHAPTER FORTY-SEVEN
SOMEONE tapped lightly at the door. I started forward, but the detective forestalled me. "Sh!" he said. He opened the door and Japhne Witherspoon entered.

"Well?" she said. "Well?" He motioned her to a chair, but she remained standing. He said: "Will you answer a question?" She regarded him warily. "Perhaps."

"You must answer it!" His blue eyes blazed into hers. She said again: "Perhaps."

"Who was the man or the woman who suggested to your mother that she have a permanent wave?" He shot the question at her and he moved backward. One hand was to her throat. She grew sathly pale.

"I can't answer that," she said nally. "So?" His lips curved into a aint smile. "Why did you take the otte of beauty mask from the alon?" he asked softly. "Why?" "I—I can't answer that."

"You have answered," McIntyre aid. "You have answered."

"No!" "Yes. You may go, Miss Witherspoon."

"You aren't—" she began and stopped. Her hand fell limply to her side. She had reached, I thought, the limits of her strength and endurance. "Very well," she said. She dropped her head upon her breast. She went away.

I faced Mac angrily. "Why must you keep on torturing her? Hasn't she borne enough?"

"You don't understand, Elsie. It was necessary to do as I did."

"Understand?" I laughed mirthlessly. "Why should I understand? No one tells me anything!"

"Quiet!" he commanded. The door was reopening. Phil had arrived.

"Everything set?" he greeted Mac. McIntyre nodded. "Where's Elsie?"

"Waiting downstairs."

I demanded, exasperated: "Will someone kindly tell me what this is all about?"

McIntyre placed his hands on my shoulders. "Phil and I have a job to do, Elsie. It's a serious job. You can't help us. You can only remain here in this room until we call you. Is that clear?"

My annoyance increased. "Clear like mud!" I grumbled.

"Don't run a temperature, girl! We aren't trying to put anything over on you." He lowered his voice to a whisper. "There may be danger! Will you promise to stay here?"

"Oh, all right!" "Good girl! Ready, Benson?" "Ready! Sit tight, sweetheart."

He kissed me lightly. "So long!" I returned to my magazine. It was raining harder now, and the wind was blowing wildly. The clock on my bed table chimed eight.

I could not sit still. I threw the magazine into a corner and began to pace up and down the room. Where were Mac and Phil? What was the job they had to do? The serious, dangerous job?

Eight-thirty! I could stand the suspense no longer. I moved toward the door. It was opening! Slowly! Opening! Mac McIntyre slipped into the room. Phil followed behind him.

"Well!" I exclaimed crossly, my heart bumping like a girl's in the first throes of puppy love, "if you have to come into my room every hour or so, the least you can do is knock!"

"Sorry, Elsie," Mac apologized. His forehead was moist and perspiring.

"We've been places, baby! Phil added. "And we've been doing things!"

I was slightly mollified. "What places and what things?" Mac wiped his forehead with the back of his sleeve. "We have the gun, Elsie—and the glove!"

"The gun? The glove?" Phil drew something from his pocket. A glove with the end of the thumb out. There was a gun wrapped in the glove.

"What—what's it all about?" "Never mind now, girl! Mac refused to explain. "We have the missing pieces! Now for action!"

"Action!" I snorted. "This place is as quiet as a churchyard!"

"And will be quieter before it gets noisy," Mac said cryptically. He was doing something to the gun. He was taking bullets from the gun. He was putting other bullets in.

"What are you doing?" "Playing games, Elsie." He wrapped the bullets in a piece of paper. "Take care of these, Elsie."

He handed them to me and I dropped them gingerly upon the bed. "Ready, Phil?" he said, and folded the gun back into the glove. "Be sure you put it back exactly as you found it!"

"O. K., Mac," Phil slipped the glove into his pocket. He crept cautiously into the room.

"I'm going now, Elsie," Mac said

some five minutes later. "Remember what I told you! Sit tight and don't leave this room!" And before I had a chance to complain of this command the door opened and closed and he had gone.

Nine-thirty! Ten! Ten-thirty! I had read every advertisement in every magazine in the place. I knew how to cure bunions, indigestion, halitosis, enlarged pores and athlete's foot, but I did not know the answer to the riddle of the gun and glove, or what Mac and Phil were up to in the silence.

Midnight! I was batty as a bed-bug! My fingernails were but a memory! Promise or no promise, danger or no danger, I made up my mind to find out what was going on. I changed my pumps for moccasins. I sneaked the length of the hall. The policeman on guard at the head of the stairs regarded me dubiously but did not halt my progress. I crept down the stairs. The lower hall was as empty as the upper.

As I stood uncertainly, one hand poised on the banister, a man approached from the direction of the kitchen. At the entrance to the library he paused. I knew the man. I went forward. The man did not see me. He was opening the library door. He was intent upon something beyond that door. He looked inside the library. He looked inside for a long, long time.

Now I was quite close to him. I could see the cords in his neck. I could see the cords swell and swell until they stood out against his neck, red and angry. Still the man did not see me.

No warning bell of danger tolled in my brain. I knew the man. He was my friend. I moved behind him. I, too, looked into the library. A man and a woman were standing in the center of the dimly lighted room. They were kissing. The man was Reginald Ainsworth and the woman was Della Craig.

The man breathed heavily. He breathed as if he had been running. As if he were choking. As if—his hand, his right hand, moved from his pocket upward. There was something black and shiny. He pointed the black thing to face the broad back of Reginald Ainsworth. Then, suddenly, the black thing made a noise. A loud noise like a bag bursting—like a gun going off! The noise sounded in my ears. My head began to swim. Round and round and round. The world went black. I knew no more.

GERMAN HUMOR PUNISHED

THE experience of Werner Finck, German stage humorist, should be a lesson to all Germany not to be funny under the Nazi regime. At least, not in public. Finck had been in a concentration camp once, and really knew better. But his funnybone got the best of him. In the cafe where he was the chief attraction, the comedian entertained an audience of "the old landed gentry", who had come to Berlin for an agricultural show, by gently razzing the government.

At one point he would flop down and crawl around the stage on his hands and knees, and when the stooge would ask him what he was doing, he would reply: "Crawling, of course—the same as you've been doing for years." The old-fashioned landed gentry roared with appreciation.

So now apparently Finck will be doing his crawling in the concentration camp again. He and several other actors who let their sense of humor overcome their reverence for Hitler, Goebbels and Company, have been formally expelled from the Reich "Chamber of Culture", alias the stage, for "lack of any positive attitude toward National Socialism."

As with so many other Nazi statements, this phrase seems to mean the precise opposite of what it says. The offending actors have had too positive an attitude toward a tyrannical government.

The Nazi bosses simply "can't take it." They are a curiously humorless lot. But then, if they had any sense of humor, they wouldn't be dictators.

WAR VS. WORK

FIGURES gathered by the International Labor Office, of which an American has recently become director, show an encouraging trend which many of us failed to note last year. The United States, in the last quarter of 1938, led all other countries in the reduction of unemployment. In the same period, more than half of the nations reporting to the labor office disclosed greater unemployment.

Great Britain, for example, despite its huge rearmament program, had a substantial drop in jobs. Munitions-making has not solved England's employment problem and probably would not solve ours. Employment is advanced by constructive industrial and commercial activity.

It is a good thing to get this matter straight. If we must arm, let it be for the single purpose of defense, with no pretense of creating jobs. War is economically destructive, and preparation for it, however necessary for other reasons, is an economic handicap.

World At A Glance

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

President Roosevelt scared congress badly when he reminded the lawmakers, in his recent message to them, that they will have to accept the responsibility for any cuts they make in the national spending-allowance which he recommends.

The legislators are somewhere between the devil and the deep blue sea.

A majority of them undoubtedly are of the opinion that our voters predominantly believe Uncle Sam already is plenty far enough into the red, and their judgment is to pare down all they can. If they do not do it they are afraid their constituents will turn them down on a future election day. Yet if they do pare down and times tighten up, they know they'll be blamed for that, too.

DEATH AT THE MANOR

BY M. E. CORNE

RELEASED BY
CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

CHAPTER FORTY-SEVEN

SOMEONE tapped lightly at the door. I started forward, but the detective forestalled me. "Sh!" he said. He opened the door and haphazardly entered. "Well?" she said. "Well?" He motioned her to a chair, but she remained standing. He said: "Will you answer a question?" She regarded him warily. "Perhaps."

"You must answer it!" His blue eyes blazed into hers. She said again: "Perhaps."

"Who was the man or the woman who suggested to your mother that she have a permanent wave?"

He shot the question at her and he moved backward. One hand swayed to her throat. She grew awfully pale.

"I can't answer that," she said. "So?" His lips curved into a faint smile. "Why did you take the little of beauty mask from the alon?" he asked softly. "Why?"

"I—I can't answer that."

"You have answered," McIntyre said. "You have answered."

"No!"

"Yes. You may go, Miss Witherspoon."

"You aren't—" she began and stopped. Her hand fell limply to her side. She had reached, I thought, the limits of her strength and endurance. "Very well," she said. She dropped her head upon her breast. She went away.

I faced Mac angrily. "Why must you keep on torturing her? Hasn't she borne enough?"

"You don't understand, Elsie. It was necessary to do as I did."

"Understand?" I laughed mirthlessly. "Why should I understand? No one tells me anything!"

"Quiet!" he commanded. The door was reopening. Phil had arrived.

"Everything set?" he greeted Mac.

McIntyre nodded. "Where's Elsie?"

"Waiting downstairs."

"Good!"

I demanded, exasperated: "Will someone kindly tell me what this is all about?"

McIntyre placed his hands on my shoulders. "Phil and I have a job to do, Elsie. It's a serious job. You can't help us. You can only remain here in this room until we call you. Is that clear?"

My annoyance increased. "Clear like mud!" I grumbled.

"Don't run a temperature, girl! We aren't trying to put anything over on you." He lowered his voice to a whisper. "There may be danger! Will you promise to stay here?"

"Oh, all right!"

"Ready! Sit tight, sweetheart!" He kissed me lightly. "So long!"

I returned to my magazine. It was raining harder now, and the wind was blowing wildly. The clock on my bed table chimed eight.

I could not sit still. I threw the magazine into a corner and began to pace up and down the room. Where were Mac and Phil? What was the job they had to do? The serious, dangerous job?

Eight-thirty! I could stand the suspense no longer. I moved toward the door. It was opening! Slowly! Opening! Mac McIntyre slipped into the room. Phil followed behind him.

"Well!" I exclaimed crossly, my heart bumping like a girl's in the first throes of puppy love, "if you have to come into my room every hour or so, the least you can do is knock!"

"Sorry, Elsie," Mac apologized. His forehead was moist and perspiring.

"We've been places, baby! Phil added. "And we've been doing things!"

I was slightly mollified. "What places and what things?"

Mac wiped his forehead with the back of his sleeve. "We have the gun, Elsie—and the glove!"

"The gun? The glove?"

Phil drew something from his pocket. A glove with the end of the thumb out. There was a gun wrapped in the glove.

"What—what's it all about?"

"Never mind now, girl! Mac refused to explain. "We have the missing pieces! Now for action!"

"Action!" I snorted. "This place is as quiet as a churchyard!"

"And will be quieter before it gets noisy," Mac said cryptically. He was doing something to the gun. He was taking bullets from the gun. He was putting other bullets in.

"What are you doing?"

"Playing games, Elsie." He wrapped the bullets in a piece of paper. "Take care of these, Elsie." He handed them to me and I dropped them gingerly upon the bed. "Ready, Phil?" he said, and folded the gun back into the glove.

"Be sure you put it back exactly as you found it!"

"O. K., Mac," Phil slipped the glove into his pocket. He crept cautiously from the room.

"I'm going now, Elsie," Mac said

some five minutes later. "Remember what I told you! Sit tight and don't leave this room!" And before I had a chance to complain of this command the door opened and closed and he had gone.

Nine-thirty! Ten! Ten-thirty! I had read every advertisement in every magazine in the place. I knew how to cure bunions, indigestion, halitosis, enlarged pores and athlete's foot, but I did not know the answer to the riddle of the gun and glove, or what Mac and Phil were up to in the silence.

Midnight! I was batty as a bedbug! My fingernails were but a memory! Promise or no promise, danger or no danger, I made up my mind to find out what was going on. I changed my pumps for moccasins. I sneaked the length of the hall. The policeman on guard at the head of the stairs regarded me dubiously but did not halt my progress. I crept down the stairs. The lower hall was as empty as the upper.

As I stood uncertainly, one hand poised on the banister, a man approached from the direction of the kitchen. At the entrance to the library he paused. I knew the man. I went forward. The man did not see me. He was opening the library door. He was intent upon something beyond that door. He looked inside the library. He looked inside for a long, long time.

Now I was quite close to him. I could see the cords in his neck. I could see the cords swell and swell until they stood out against his neck, red and angry. Still the man did not see me.

No warning bell of danger tolled in my brain. I knew the man. He was my friend. I moved behind him. I, too, looked into the library. A man and a woman were standing in the center of the dimly lighted room. They were kissing. The man was Reginald Ainsworth and the woman was Della Craig.

The man breathed heavily. He breathed as if he had been running. As if he were choking. As if—his hand, his right hand, moved from his pocket upward. There was something black and shiny. He pointed the black thing to face the broad back of Reginald Ainsworth. Then, suddenly, the black thing made a noise. A loud noise like—like a bag bursting—like a gun going off! The noise sounded in my ears. My head began to swim. Round and round and round. The world went black. I knew no more.

STARS SAY—

For Thursday, February 9 THE PLANETARY configurations for this day denote some rather conflicting situations. There should be a great deal in the way of social, domestic or affectional gratification, but at the same time there may be a sudden visitation that will prove disagreeable and upsetting to plans and desires. This disturbance might be due to a critical, capricious and erratic state of mind. Wise counsel of an influential friend may be recommended to adjust difficulties. Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a very lively and eventful year. Although the private affairs—domestic, social and sentimental—may bring happy adventures, there also is a hint of a sudden upset or disturbance that will interrupt the smooth running of a joyous state of affairs. This might be due to a rather critical, eccentric or singular state of mind, and might be restored to peace and harmony by the advice of a faithful and influential friend or a trustworthy elder.

A child born on this day may be energetic, adventurous and ambitious, with unusual mentality and critical faculties. It should be kindly, sympathetic and affectionate, and have much cultural grace.

COUNCIL STUDIES ASSESSMENT RATES FOR SEWAGE PLANT OPERATION

DWELLINGS AND APARTMENTS TO PAY $6 YEARLY

No Definite Action Taken; Industrial Waste Charge Not Determined

An ordinance on a tentative schedule of assessments to provide funds for operation of the disposal plant was given one reading before council Wednesday night.

The ordinance does not include charges for industrial wastes. These charges will be worked out at a later meeting. Carl C. Leist, solicitor, and Floyd G. Browne, engineer on the disposal plant project, conferred with industrial plant officials Wednesday afternoon to obtain opinions on what they felt would be fair charges. Plant officials asked for a little time to study the question.

Charges in the schedule are established on a yearly basis and become due in advance on the first day of January, April, July and October. All bills not paid by the 15th of the month in which they become due shall be subject to a 10 percent penalty.

Charges Provided

Charges set under the ordinance include:

Dwellings and apartments; one family, one sewer connection, $6 per annum; two family, one connection, $11 per annum; two family, two connections, $12 per annum; four family, two connections, $22 per annum; others, for each family, $6 per annum. For each additional family on the same connection the charge is $5.50 per annum.

Hotels; for each room with bath $17.50 per annum; for each room without bath $1 per annum; public toilets $8 per annum.

Rooming houses; the charge is $6 per annum plus $1 per annum for each person renting a room therein.

Stores, restaurants, offices and mercantile establishments; private toilets $6 per annum; public toilets $12 per annum; kitchen sinks $6 per annum, and slop sinks $3 per annum.

Factories and shops; for each and every person employed or engaged in services on the premises, the schedule of charges will be: ten persons or less, each $1 per annum; more than 10 and not over 25, 90 cents per annum; more than 25 and not over 50, 80 cents per annum; more than 50 and not over 100, 70 cents per annum, and all over 100, 60 cents per annum.

Clubs and lodges; for each toilet $6 per annum, kitchen sink $6 per annum, and slop sink $3 per annum.

Berger hospital; $25 per annum.

For each non-resident student in the school the rate will be 75 cents per school term, based on the average attendance per month.

Churches Removed

The ordinance made a charge of $3 a year for each toilet in churches. Councilmen voted to remove churches from the schedule.

The ordinance will be up for further consideration next Wednesday night.

Mr. Leist informed councilmen that he had a telephone conversation Wednesday with Congressman Harold Claypool and learned that there is still hope of the city's request for a supplemental grant of about $9,000 being obtained from P.W.A. Councilmen instructed Mr. Leist that, if necessary, he make a trip to Washington if additional information is wanted by P.W.A.

Rail and bus fares will be down for the World's Fair—but indications are that a sandwich will cost as much as the empire state building.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

F. C. A. OFFICIALS ACCEPT P L E A S FOR CROP LOANS

Applications for emergency crop and feed loans for 1939 are now being received at the office of County Agent F. K. Blair by Clarence Fealty, field supervisor of the emergency crop and feed loan section of the Farm Credit Administration.

The loans will be made, as in the past, only to farmers whose cash requirements are small and who cannot obtain credit from any other source. The money loaned will be limited to the farmer's immediate and actual cash needs for growing his 1939 crops or for the purchase of feed for livestock.

Farmers who can obtain the funds they need from an individual, production credit association, bank, or other concern are not eligible for crop and feed loans from the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration. The loans will not be made to standard rehabilitation clients whose current needs are provided for by the Farm Security Administration, formerly known as the Resettlement Administration.

As in the past, farmers who obtain emergency crop and feed loans will give as security a first lien on the crop financed, or a first lien on the livestock to be fed if the money borrowed is to be used to produce or purchase feed for livestock.

CLARK ASKS PERMISSION TO PUT POSTS IN WALK

Fred Clark, funeral director, conferred with council Wednesday night in connection with his plan to erect a portico in front of the Albaugh funeral home.

Mr. Clark said he felt it would be necessary to have supports extending from the sidewalk and asked council's permission to place these posts on the sidewalk. Drawings of the proposed improvement will be submitted to council in the near future.

County Troops Observe Boy Scout Week Plans

Emphasizing the theme, "Scouting Carries On American Ideals," Boy Scout Week marking the twenty-ninth anniversary of Scouting, is being observed from Feb. 8 to 14 by more than a million boys throughout the United States, including scouts of Circleville and Pickaway county. As a feature of the special week locally, a district rally, to which the public is invited, will be held Monday evening, Feb. 13, in Memorial Hall.

Wednesday opened scout week with President Roosevelt, honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America, broadcasting a message to the Scouts from the White House in the evening. Dr. James E. West, chief scout executive, and Walter W. Head, president, will also be heard on the program commemorating scouting's birthday. As has become traditional, scouts and scouters today will rededicate themselves again to the principles of the Scout Oath and Law.

Thursday is known as Scout Citizenship Day. Friday has been designated as Scout Brotherhood Day and Saturday as Scout Service Day.

To Attend Church

Scout Reverence Day will be observed Sunday, Feb. 12, with several troops of the district planning to attend church services in a body on that day.

A program of inter-troop competitions and a camping movie will feature the Boy Scout Week Daily which will be held on Monday, Scout Dedication Day. This will climax the anniversary week here, although Tuesday, Feb. 14 has been set aside as Scout Fun Day. The rally will be in charge of the Pickaway District Commissioner Staff, in cooperation with the various Scoutmasters.

Radio programs, celebrities and sponsors will pay tribute to scouting throughout the week and on Saturday a special broadcast has been arranged at station WOSU. Byron P. Redman, president of the Central Ohio Area Council, and Robert H. Heistand, Scout executive, will be heard, as will the telephone band of a Columbus troop.

DEADLINE FOR BILLS RESULTS IN GRAND RUSH

Monday Final Day For Presentation By Ohio Legislators

COLUMBUS, Feb. 9.—The race to introduce bills in the legislature before the Monday deadline continued at a dizzy pace today.

House members expected the bill total to reach 500 after sending 51 bills to the hopper yesterday. Senators were predicting that 200 measures will be introduced following the offering of 16 bills.

The avalanche of proposed legislation raised the house total to 351 and that in the senate to 110.

An important measure which would place numerous positions in all state departments not now included under civil service was introduced by Sen. Horace S. Keifer (R-Springfield).

A resolution requesting congress to adopt a policy of federal aid for gate control in the Miami Conservancy District was adopted by a voice vote in the senate.

Two resolutions were adopted in the house providing a committee to investigate establishment of a state highway commission and providing a joint committee to draft a permanent relief program by March 15.

Bricker Report Asked

Resolutions offered in the house included one to request Governor Bricker to report to the house the results of his economy program; provide for a five-member committee to probe alleged failure to enforce the barbers' and cosmetology laws and a committee to investigate high rates for liability and property damage insurance.

House bills introduced included: LeFever (R-Athens) making term of health director five years and increasing size of public health council from four to six.

Siferd (D-Auglaize) permitting enforcement officers of conservation department to stop persons and search automobiles without a warrant when there is reason to believe the fish and game laws have been violated.

Houston (R-Champaign) making uniform the terms of members of boards of education of exempted village and rural school districts.

Dworkin (D-Cuyahoga) rendering inadmissible against the defendant in a criminal case any evidence secured by unlawful means, search or seizure. The bill would reverse effect of a decision of the Ohio supreme court that such evidence is admissible.

Huml (D-Cuyahoga) making it unlawful to employ persons for the purpose of interfering with lawful picketing or lawful strikes.

COUNCIL STUDIES ASSESSMENT RATES FOR SEWAGE PLANT OPERATION

DWELLINGS AND APARTMENTS TO PAY $6 YEARLY

No Definite Action Taken; Industrial Waste Charge Not Determined

An ordinance on a tentative schedule of assessments to provide funds for operation of the disposal plant was given one reading before council Wednesday night. The ordinance does not include charges for industrial wastes. These charges will be worked out at a later meeting. Carl C. Leist, solicitor, and Floyd G. Browne, engineer on the disposal plant project, conferred with industrial plant officials Wednesday afternoon to obtain opinions on what they felt would be fair charges. Plant officials asked for a little time to study the question. Charges in the schedule are established on a yearly basis and become due in advance on the first day of January, April, July and October. All bills not paid by the 15th of the month in which they become due shall be subject to a 10 percent penalty.

Charges set under the ordinance include:

Dwellings and apartments; one family, one sewer connection, $6 per annum; two family, one connection, $11 per annum; two family, two connections, $12 per annum; four family, two connections, $22 per annum; others, for each family, $6 per annum. For each additional family on the same connection the charge is $5.50 per annum.

Hotels; for each room with bath $1.75 per annum; for each room without bath $1 per annum; public toilets $8 per annum.

Rooming houses; the charge is $6 per annum plus $1 per annum for each person renting a room therein.

Stores, restaurants, offices and mercantile establishments; private toilets $6 per annum; public toilets $12 per annum; kitchen sinks $6 per annum, and slop sinks $3 per annum.

Factories and shops; for each and every person employed or engaged in services on the premises, the schedule of charges will be: ten persons or less, each $1 per annum; more than 10 and not over 25, 90 cents per annum; more than 25 and not over 50, 80 cents per annum; more than 50 and not over 100, 70 cents per annum, and all over 100, 60 cents per annum.

Clubs and lodges; for each toilet $6 per annum, kitchen sink $6 per annum, and slop sink $3 per annum.

Berger hospital; $25 per annum. For each non-resident student in the school the rate will be 75 cents per school term, based on the average attendance per month.

Churches Removed The ordinance made a charge of $3 a year for each toilet in churches. Councilmen voted to remove churches from the schedule.

The ordinance will be up for further consideration next Wednesday night.

Mr. Leist informed councilmen that he had a telephone conversation Wednesday with Congressman Harold Claypool and learned that there is still hope of the city's request for a supplemental grant of about $9,000 being obtained from P.W.A. Councilmen instructed Mr. Leist that, if necessary, he make a trip to Washington if additional information is wanted by P.W.A.

Rail and bus fares will be down for the World's Fair—but indications are that a sandwich will cost as much as the empire state building.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

F. C. A. OFFICIALS ACCEPT P L E A S FOR CROP LOANS

Applications for emergency crop and feed loans for 1939 are now being received at the office of County Agent F. K. Blair by Clarence Fealty, field supervisor of the emergency crop and feed loan section of the Farm Credit Administration.

The loans will be made, as in the past, only to farmers whose cash requirements are small and who cannot obtain credit from any other source. The money loaned will be limited to the farmer's immediate and actual cash needs for growing his 1939 crops or for the purchase of feed for livestock.

Farmers who can obtain the funds they need from an individual, production credit association, bank, or other concern are not eligible for crop and feed loans from the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration. The loans will not be made to standard rehabilitation clients whose current needs are provided for by the Farm Security Administration, formerly known as the Resettlement Administration.

As in the past, farmers who obtain emergency crop and feed loans will give as security a first lien on the crop financed, or a first lien on the livestock to be fed if the money borrowed is to be used to produce or purchase feed for livestock.

CLARK ASKS PERMISSION TO PUT POSTS IN WALK

Fred Clark, funeral director, conferred with council Wednesday night in connection with his plan to erect a portico in front of the Albaugh funeral home.

Mr. Clark said he felt it would be necessary to have supports extending from the sidewalk and asked council's permission to place these posts on the sidewalk. Drawings of the proposed improvement will be submitted to council in the near future.

DEADLINE FOR BILLS RESULTS IN GRAND RUSH

Monday Final Day For Presentation By Ohio Legislators

COLUMBUS, Feb. 9—The race to introduce bills in the legislature before the Monday deadline continued at a dizzy pace today.

House members expected the bill total to reach 500 after sending 51 bills to the hopper yesterday. Senators were predicting that 200 measures will be introduced following the offering of 16 bills.

The avalanche of proposed legislation raised the house total to 351 and that in the senate to 110. An important measure which would place numerous positions in all state departments not now included under civil service was introduced by Sen. Horace S. Keifer (R-Springfield).

A resolution requesting congress to adopt a policy of federal aid for gate control in the Miami Conservancy District was adopted by a voice vote in the senate.

Two resolutions were adopted in the house providing a committee to investigate establishment of a state highway commission and providing a joint committee to draft a permanent relief program by March 15.

Bricker Report Asked Resolutions offered in the house included one to request Governor Bricker to report to the house the results of his economy program; provide for a five-member committee to probe alleged failure to enforce the barbers' and cosmetology laws and a committee to investigate high rates for liability and property damage insurance.

House bills introduced included: LeFever (R-Athens) making term of health director five years and increasing size of public health council from four to six.

Siferd (D-Auglaize) permitting enforcement officers of conservation department to stop persons and search automobiles without a warrant when there is reason to believe the fish and game laws have been violated.

Houston (R-Champaign) making uniform the terms of members of boards of education of exempted village and rural school districts.

Dworkin (D-Cuyahoga) rendering inadmissible against the defendant in a criminal case any evidence secured by unlawful means, search or seizure. The bill would reverse effect of a decision of the Ohio supreme court that such evidence is admissible.

Huml (D-Cuyahoga) making it unlawful to employ persons for the purpose of interfering with lawful picketing or lawful strikes.

New Office Building? Duffy (D-Cuyahoga) providing for a state office building in Cleveland for bureaus and offices now housed in rented quarters and to finance the project by a three-tenths of a mill state levy on real estate.
